Re: Ordinance Relating to Discrimination on the Basis of Sexual Orientation

Honorable Members in Session:

Summary

On March 5, 1985, the attached ordinance was presented to the City Council by the Sacramentans for Justice and was referred to this committee for hearing.

This ordinance prohibits discrimination on the basis of sexual orientation (sometimes referred to herein simply as "discrimination") in the following areas: employment, businesses, real estate transactions, City facilities and services, and educational institutions. The ordinance is discussed in more detail below.

Discussion

The ordinance's salient points are:

1. Employment (S14.101)

(a) Persons covered by the ordinance: All employers with more than five employees (including the owner and any management and supervisory employees), all employment agencies, and all labor organizations.

(b) Conduct prohibited: Discrimination in hiring and termination decisions on the basis of sexual orientation. It also prohibits discrimination with respect to compensation, terms, conditions, or privileges of employment, including promotion; or to limit, segregate or classify employees in any way which would deprive or tend to deprive any individual of employment opportunities, or otherwise adversely affect his or her status as an employee.

Employment agencies cannot discriminate based on sexual orientation in referring for employment any individual. Labor organizations are prohibited from discriminating in granting membership, and may not limit, segregate or classify their memberships in any way which would deprive homosexual individuals of employment opportunities. Nor may the labor organizations limit the employment opportunities of their members or otherwise affect the status of those members as employees or as applicants for employment.

Finally, no employer, employment agency or labor organization may discriminate against individuals in providing training programs, nor may they advertise that their training programs will discriminate against persons based on sexual orientation.

The ordinance provides that it shall not be an unlawful discriminatory practice for an employer to observe the conditions of a bona fide employee seniority or benefit system, provided such systems or plans are not a subterfuge to evade the provisions of the ordinance.

(c) Required Conduct: The ordinance requires that every employer with fifteen (15) or more employees, every labor organization with fifteen (15) or more members, and every employment agency must post and keep posted in every place upon its premises where notices to employees, applicants for employment, and members are customarily posted, a notice to the effect that discrimination on the basis of sexual orientation is prohibited by law. It is further required that such notice must cite that this prohibition comes from Chapter 14 of the Sacramento City Code.

As an alternative to that requirement, the affected employers, labor organizations, and employment agencies may simply add the words "sexual orientation" to all notices required by federal or state law.

2. Business Establishment ($14.102)

(a) Persons bound by the ordinance: "Any person" is bound by the provisions of this part of the ordinance.

(b) Prohibited conduct: In general, the ordinance prohibits discrimination in the provision of goods, services, facilities, privileges, advantages and accommodations of any business establishment on the basis of a client's sexual orientation. It further provides that persons covered by the provisions of this ordinance may not deny credit to any person on the basis of such person's sexual orientation. Finally, the ordinance provides that no business establishment may advertise that it engages in or will engage in any discrimination against persons based on sexual orientation.

3. Real Estate ($14.103)

(a) Persons covered by the ordinance: The ordinance generally covers "any person". However, the ordinance does not apply to the rental or leasing of any housing unit in which the owner or lessor, or any member of his or her family, occupies one of the living units, and it is necessary for the owner or lessor to use either a bathroom or kitchen facility in common with the prospective tenant.

(b) Prohibited conduct: The ordinance provides that it shall be an unlawful real estate practice for any person to engage in any of a listed set of acts wholly or partially based on sexual orientation. The list includes the following:

- °The termination, failure, or refusal to initiate or conduct any transaction in real property, including but not limited to rental;
- °To include in the terms or conditions of a transaction any clause, condition or restriction;
- °To falsely represent that an interest in real property is not available for a transaction;
- °To refuse to lend money, guarantee a loan, accept a deed of trust or mortgage, or otherwise refuse to make available funds for the purchase, acquisition, construction, alteration, rehabilitation, repair or maintenance of real property;
- °The imposition of different conditions on financing than would be present otherwise;
- °The refusal to provide title or other insurance relating to the ownership or use of any interest in real property;
- °The refusal or restricting of facilities, services, repairs or improvements for any tenant or lessee;
- °The making, printing, publishing, advertising, or dissemination in any way, any notice, statement or advertisement with respect to financing related to any such transaction which states that any unlawful real estate practice as listed above will be engaged in.

4. City Facilities and Services ($14.104)

(a) Persons covered by the ordinance: The ordinance covers "any person".

(b) Conduct prohibited: The ordinance prohibits discrimination on the basis of sexual orientation in making available City services and facilities and City-supported services and facilities. It further prevents any City services and facilities and City-supported services and facilities from advertising that the service or facility will discriminate on the basis of sexual orientation.

5. Educational Institutions (§14.105)

(a) Persons covered by the ordinance: The ordinance covers "any person".

(b) Prohibited conduct: Discrimination with respect to admission, the provision of services or programs offered by educational institutions, and access to facilities owned or operated by an educational institution. It further provides that it is unlawful for educational institutions to advertise that they engage in or will engage in educational practices which discriminate on the basis of sexual orientation. Finally, the ordinance provides that it shall not be an unlawful discriminatory practice for a religious or denominational institution to limit admission or give other preferences to applicants of the same religion. The ordinance would not apply to public schools, colleges and universities.

6. Retaliation (§14.106): Retaliation against a person because that person seeks enforcement of the ordinance is prohibited.

7. Enforcement (§14.107, 14.108): Any person who violates any provision of the ordinance shall be liable for actual damages and costs to the individual or individuals whose rights are violated, and may, in the court's discretion, be responsible for attorney's fees for the other party. Injunctions against violations may also be sought. Criminal liability exists only for violation of the notice posting requirement of §14.101(c)(1).

8. Limitations on the Actions: The statute of limitations is one year and six months from the date which plaintiff knew or should have known of defendant's decision or action.

9. Non-Waiverability: the ordinance includes a provision which prohibits the contractual waiver or modification of any provision of the ordinance.

The ordinance prohibits discrimination based on sexual orientation in private employment, which is not currently prohibited by State law. ABL (Agnes) of 1984 would have prohibited this, but this was vetoed by the Governor. The ordinance does cover certain areas already covered either by State law, principles of constitutional law, or existing City policy. In summary:

1. City Employment: Discrimination is prohibited under principles of constitutional law. Gay Law Students Association v. Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. (1979) 24 C. 3d 458, 4657. In addition, the City's existing policy on equal employment opportunity prohibits discrimination based on sexual orientation.

2. Business Establishments and Real Estate Transactions: Discrimination is prohibited by the Unruh Civil Rights Act ("Act"), California Civil Code §§51, et seq.). The Act does not define a business establishment, but courts have given a very broad construction to the term. Curran v. Mt. Diablo Council of Boy Scouts (1983) 147 C.A. 3d 712, 729-30, which held that Boy Scouts was a "business establishment" within the Act's prohibition against discrimination and that the prohibition included discrimination based on homosexuality (Id., at pp 733-34). Discrimination in the rental of housing is also prohibited by the Act. Hubert v. Williams (1982) 133 C.A. 3d, Supp. 1. The Act allows for suits for actual and punitive damages, injunctions, and attorney's fees. There is no criminal liability for violating the Act.

The ordinance allows for attorney's fees (discussed below) and does provide that failure to post notices that discrimination is prohibited is an infraction.

The ordinance provision allowing attorney's fees causes us concern. While it is not entirely clear, we believe it is preempted by State law. Section 1021 of the California Civil Code provides:

1021. Attorney's fees, determination by agreement; right to costs and disbursements

Except as attorney's fees are specifically provided for by statute, the measure and mode of compensation of attorneys and counselors at law is left to the agreement, express or implied, of the parties; but parties to actions or proceedings are entitled to costs and disbursements, as hereinafter provided. (emphasis supplied)

The above language, when coupled with the fact that there are nearly 150 State statutes which allow attorney's fees (CEB California Attorney's Fees Awards Practice, 1982 and supplement 1984) evidences a legislative intent to preempt the field of providing for attorney's fees. A holding that the attorney's fees provision is invalid because it is preempted by State law could have an unanticipated serious financial effect of a successful plaintiff or his or her attorney.

San Francisco, Los Angeles, Berkeley and Laguna Beach have adopted ordinances very similar to this ordinance. Oakland has also adopted an ordinance which is somewhat similar.
