RESIDENTIAL ROOF INSPECTION

Date: July 31, 2000
For: Aguirre Roofing

Disclaimer: The roofer will assume responsibility to verify and repair any wood he comes across during the course of his work that shows evidence of deterioration (e.g. dry rot, termite infestation). No testing and/or samples were taken during my inspection and thus no warranties or guarantees regarding the condition of the existing materials is expressed. The Engineer of Record of this report will not assume any liability associated with any claims related to damage resulting from deteriorated wood present in the existing house.

I, Frank L. Gregorin, P.E., has inspected the roof structure of the residence located at 745 Los Lunas Way, Sacramento, California for Jose Aguirre, Owner of Aguirre Roofing, in compliance with Sacramento City Code, Section 9.03.146 (D) 3).

The structure is a single family one story house built in the late 1970's and it's roof structure is comprised of 1x skip sheathing over prefabricated gang nailed roof trusses at 24" o.c. with 2x4 chords and diagonals. The eave structure consists of 2x decking and will not include new roof plywood with eaves not exceeding 3'-0". The existing timber that I visually inspected showed no visible signs of distress or deterioration and is deemed to be in sound condition.

From my experience this type prefabricated roof truss structure is typically designed for no less than a roof dead load of 10 psf top chord loading and a ceiling dead load of 10 psf bottom chord loading. It is my expert opinion that the existing roof truss structure can adequately support the existing material that is to remain and the new roofing material to be added.

This includes:

- (e) 2x4 top chord @ 24" o.c. 0.56 psf
- (e) 1x6 skip sheathing 0.30 psf
- (n) 1/2 CDX Plywood sheathing 1.50 psf
- (n) roof paper 0.50 psf
- (n) light-weight tile (580#/sq.) 5.80 psf

sum = 8.66 psf

x 12.65/12 (4:12 slope adjustment)

9.13 psf < 10 psf allowable, therefore O.K.

- ① Existing truss roof per plan - v.i.f.
- ② No work req'd, per this report.

Check strength of overhang for maximum span of 3'-0" where may be occurring (assume DF No.2 minimum)

(e) 2x4 @ 24" o.c.	0.56 psf
(e) 2x4 decking	4.50 psf
(n) roofing paper	0.50 psf
(n) light-weight 580# per square tile	5.80 psf
sum =	11.36 psf
	x 12.65/12 (4:12 slope adjustment)
	11.98 psf, say 12 psf

Distributed Load = (12 psf DL + 16 psf LL) (2' spacing) = 56 plf

$V_{max} = (1.5) (56 \text{ plf}) (3') = 252 \#$
 $f_v = (252 \#) / (5.25 \text{ sq. in.}) = \underline{48 \text{ psi}} < \underline{118.75 \text{ psi}} \Rightarrow F_v = 95 \times 1.25 \text{LDF}$

$M_{max} = (56 \text{ plf}) (3') (3'/2) = 252 \#'$
 $f_b = (252 \#') (12 \text{ in/ft}) (3.0625 \text{ in}^3) = \underline{772 \text{ psi}} < \underline{1093 \text{ psi}} \Rightarrow F_b = 875 \times 1.25 \text{LDF}$

Therefore strength of existing eave rafters O.K.
