Honorable Members in Session:

SUBJECT: REQUEST FOR SUPPORT OF SENATE CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT 9

SUMMARY

During the current session of the State Legislature, Senator Daniel Boatwright proposed a State Constitutional Amendment that would give California's Governor the authority to halt the parole of convicted murderers from State Prison. This measure is Senate Constitutional Amendment 9.

BACKGROUND

Senator Boatwright first proposed this constitutional amendment in 1983 during Governor Deukmejian's attempt to prevent the release of convicted killer William Archie Fain.

The State Department of Corrections has presented additional information as to previously released first-degree murderers. Three hundred and six previously convicted first-degree murderers have been sent back to prison between January 1, 1973 and June 30, 1984, a third of them convicted of new crimes ranging from murder and rape to drug offenses.

Senate Constitutional Amendment 9 would specifically empower the Governor to review the decision of the State Parole Authority to release a convicted murderer and would give the state's chief executive 30 days in which to affirm, modify or reverse the decision.

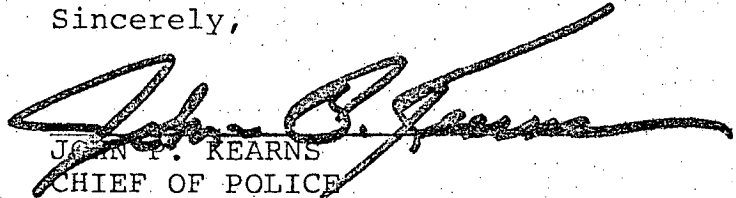

We long ago established a precedent for Senate Constitutional Amendment 9 within the State Constitution, which authorizes the Governor to grant reprieves, pardons and commutations after sentencing. If approved by the Legislature, the measure would appear on the June, 1986 ballot.

RECOMMENDATION:

I request the Law and Legislative Committee to support this legislation by corresponding with our elected representatives and request they vote for this Constitutional Amendment.

Sincerely,

Senate Constitutional Amendment No. 9—A resolution to propose to the people of the State of California an amendment to the Constitution of the State, by amending Section 8 of Article V thereof, relating to the Governor.

LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL'S DIGEST

SCA 9, as introduced, Boatwright. The Governor.

Existing provisions of the California Constitution permit the Governor, subject to application procedures provided by statute, to grant a reprieve, pardon, and commutation after sentence, except in the case of an impeachment. A twice-convicted felon may not be granted a pardon or commutation except upon the recommendation of 4 judges of the Supreme Court. The Governor is required to report to the Legislature on reprieves, pardons, and commutations granted.

This measure would provide that no decision of the parole authority of this state concerning granting, denial, revocation, or suspension of parole of a person sentenced to an indeterminate term upon conviction of murder shall become final for a period of 30 days, during which the Governor could review the decision. The Governor could only affirm, modify, or reverse the decision of the parole authority on the basis of the same factors the parole authority is required to consider. The Governor would be required to report to the Legislature on the decisions reviewed.

Vote: $\frac{2}{3}$. Appropriation: no. Fiscal committee: yes. State-mandated local program: no.
