The charge for service that this company subcontracts to another registered company may include the company's charges for arranging and administering such services that are in addition to the direct costs associated with paying the subcontractor. NOTICE TO OWNER

Under the California Mechanics Lien law, any structural pest control operator who contracts to do work for you, any contractor, subcontractor, laborer, supplier or other person who helps to improve your property, but is not paid for work or supplies, has the right to enforce a claim against your property. This means that after a court hearing, your property could be sold by a court officer and the proceeds of the sale used to satisfy the indebtedness. This can happen even if you have paid your contractor in full if the subcontractor, laborers or suppliers remain unpaid. To preserve their right to file a claim of lien against your property, certain claimants such as subcontractors and material suppliers are required to provide you with a document intitled "Preliminary Notice". General contractors and laborers for wages do not have to provide this notice. A Preliminary Notice is not a lien against your property. Its purpose is to notify you of persons who may have a right to file a lein against your property if they are not paid. You can protect yourself from such claim by requiring your contractor to supply you with a payment and performance bond prior to commencing any work of improvement and/or requiring your contractor to provide you with an unconditional lien release signed by each material supplier, subcontractor, and laborer involved in that project phase before making payment on the completed phase of the project.

The charge for service that this company subcontracts to another registered company may include the company's charges for arranging and administering such services that are in addition to the direct costs associated with paying the subcontractor. You may accept HomeGuard Incorporated's bid or you may contract directly with another registered company licensed to perform the work.

NOTICE TO OWNER

Under the California Mechanics Lien law, any structural pest control operator who contracts to do work for you, any contractor, subcontractor, laborer, supplier or other person who helps to improve your property, but is not paid for work or supplies, has the right to enforce a claim against your property. This means that after a court hearing, your property could be sold by a court officer and the proceeds of the sale used to satisfy the indebtedness. This can happen even if you have paid your contractor in full if the subcontractor, laborers or suppliers remain unpaid. To preserve their right to file a claim of lien against your property, certain claimants such as subcontractors and material suppliers are required to provide you with a document entitled "Preliminary Notice". General contractors and laborers for wages do not have to provide this notice. A Preliminary Notice is not a lien against your property. Its purpose is to notify you of persons who may have a right to file a lien against your property if they are not paid. You can protect yourself from such claim by requiring your contractor to supply you with a payment and performance bond prior to commencing any work of improvement and/or requiring your contractor to provide you with an unconditional lien release signed by each material supplier, subcontractor, and laborer involved in that project phase before making payment on the completed phase of the project.
