RE: INCOMPLETE REROOFING PROJECT – 5650 EL ARADO WAY

This is to follow up on my telephone conversation this morning with your company sales representative Jeff Tucker. Mr. Tucker called me and demanded final payment for the reroofing project on my home at 5650 El Arado Way, Sacramento, CA 95822.

As I pointed out to Mr. Tucker, Zimmerman Reroofing Inc. has not completed the reroofing project on my home. I am puzzled as to why Zimmerman Reroofing Inc. would be sending me a bill for final payment. As you and Mr. Tucker know, the roof on my home has not passed final inspection, as evidenced in the August 21, 2000 correction notice, prepared by Mr. Charles Morrison, Inspector, City of Sacramento, Building Inspections Division. I have enclosed a copy of the correction notice since Mr. Tucker stated that Zimmerman Reroofing Inc. is not aware of this correction notice and was not informed by the building inspector. I find it difficult to understand that Zimmerman Reroofing Inc. – a company that has been in the reroofing business for many years – would not be aware and diligent in following up on such critical stages of the construction process as building inspections.

As you will note, the building inspection correction notice enclosed states that the “following violations of city and/or state laws governing same” exist and must be corrected before the roof will pass final inspection:

1. Wall heater exhaust pipe to extend at least through base. To have correct size flashing and 1-1/2” clearance from combustible.
2. Water heater – single wall exhaust pipe requires 6” clearance from all combustibles.

As Zimmerman Reroofing Inc. is in the business of roofing construction, your company should be fully knowledgeable of any and all city and state building code requirements. As the consumer, I relied upon your skill and knowledge to complete the roofing project on my home in accordance with any and all city and state building code requirements. The correction requirements on the enclosed building inspection correction notice are the responsibility of Zimmerman Reroofing Inc. The cost to complete the corrections is your responsibility.

In addition, Zimmerman Reroofing Inc. has not yet provided me with the lien releases as stipulated in the contract.

I am, therefore, withholding final payment unless and until the reroofing project on my home is completed to my satisfaction and in accordance with any and all city and state building codes.

Sincerely, Marie G. Robinson

RE: INCOMPLETE REROOFING PROJECT - 5650 EL ARADO WAY

This is my second letter to Zimmerman Reroofing Inc. concerning the reroofing project at my home located at 5650 El Arado Way, Sacramento, CA 95822.

Mr. Charles Morrison, Inspector, City of Sacramento, Building Inspections Division, came to my home yesterday to conduct the final inspection. As you will note from the copy of the correction notice enclosed, that the work performed to bring the wall heater up to building code, did not pass final inspection. The correction notice states that "Transite "B" vent flue (wall heater) cannot be extended with double-wall "B" vent flue". You may want to take note that Mr. Morrison further states that "If item is not corrected at next inspection a reinspection fee will be assessed".

Also, I stated on page 2 of my September 6, 2000 letter to Zimmerman Reroofing Inc. that I wanted the lien releases. The document you sent me is not what I requested. Please provide me with a complete listing of any and all subcontractors and suppliers who provided services for the roofing work on my home. If you cannot provide this listing, then please provide an unconditional release.

I would like to add that there is a visible section of the roof that that was left unfinished. I called this to the attention of the workman who was here. He promised to finish it, but did not follow through to complete the work.

I am, therefore, withholding final payment unless and until the reroofing project on my home is completed to my satisfaction, lien releases for subcontractors and suppliers are provided, and the roof passes the final building inspection.

Sincerely,

Marie G. Robinson
