Re: Animal Care Citizens Advisory Committee, Public At-Large Representative Position

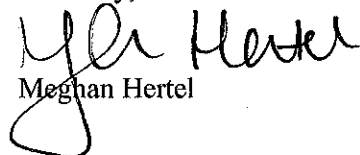

Dear Ms. Cistaro,

Six years ago, my supervisor asked if I would adopt a puppy that had wandered into her yard looking hungry and scared. Having three dogs herself, she couldn't keep the puppy and planned to take the dog to the county shelter. The night I picked up Tyler, my boss explained that her neighbor, underestimating the work involved in raising a puppy, decided to "set it free" and confessed to this when learning that another home had been arranged for the puppy. I will never know if the neighbor didn't know what animal care services were available or perhaps thought that the dog would do better alone in the suburbs of Atlanta. However, at that moment looking at the frightened, skinny puppy, I truly understood the importance of animal care services.

I grew up with pets and recognize the value that they add to our lives and the responsibility that we have over theirs. I currently own two rescue dogs and although I would love more, my husband has firmly and wisely set the limit at two. Serving on the Animal Care Citizens Advisory Committee would allow me the opportunity to help improve the lives of more animals than the two that now take up most of the bed at night. I would bring to the public at-large position my passion for animal welfare, experience as a citizen owning pets, and my knowledge of the challenges facing animal care service providers gained through my volunteer experience at the Dekalb County Humane Society. Additionally, I have strong communication skills; experience working with state, county, and city staff; and an understanding of how city government functions. My professional experience and skills are assets that would facilitate my service as a liaison to the Mayor, Council and City staff on behalf of the community.

A position as a public at-large representative on the Animal Care Citizens Advisory Committee would allow me the opportunity to have a positive impact on issues that I care deeply about. I would appreciate the opportunity to talk with you about what skills I can bring to this Committee. Thank you in advance for your time and consideration.

Sincerely,

Meghan Hertel

Encls.
