Re: Mooney Garage

This is in regard to hold down at garage front. I specified a PHD5 hold down. The foundation contractor didn't leave anchor bolt high enough to accommodate the PHD5 hold down. The framing contractor has found that a LTT20B hold down will fit.

The ultimate strength of the LTT20B is sufficient to accommodate loads.

Considering the protected location of the garage, I do not believe that design loads will ever be realized at this site, consequently in my opinion the hold down will be adequate.

Thank you for your consideration and patience.

Yours,

Michael Mooney
