Dear Mr. Bond,

On Jan. 21, 1999 my daughter called me because her secret heater had been going out (the burner) and there were no hot water. She lives under the heater. She called a plumber, who said the tank was leaking and they would not replace it without a permit. He is a high priced unit. There young children need paid for the permit.

To give them some idea as to what the plumber and the town had to do to get the heater replaced I let the plumber and the town know that the heater was in a best that price to the outside of the house and it cost $1,000. I let the town know that the heater was in the main house and it cost $1,000. The town was not going to pay for the heater. The town was not going to pay for the heater. The town was not going to pay for the heater.
