COMMUNICATION RE: POLICE OFFICER EXAMINATION RECEIVED FROM SHARON L. MCCLATCHY AND PAMELA LITTLE

Attorney David Simmons and his clients Miss Sharon McClatchy and Miss Pamela Little were present. Attorney Simmons indicated that his clients were present to ask the question - "when is 70% not 70%?" Miss McClatchy and Miss Little were candidates for the examination of Community Service Officer held in May, 1977. The examination announcement indicated that the passing score would be 70%. Their raw score was 84% and 82%, respectively. They received notification on July 9 that they did not pass the examination.

Mr. Simmons informed the Board members that he learned from Mr. William Woska, Personnel Management Administrator, that approximately 179 of the 543 candidates who passed the written test placed between the raw scores of 103 (70%) and 130. Mr. Simmons stated that it was his understanding that the passing score was raised because of the number of candidates who had passed the examination. Mr. Simmons said that the City should have anticipated a large number of people to pass the written test because of the study guide distributed to all of the candidates who passed the agility test.

Mr. Woska, representing the City, informed the Board that the agility test was modified so that more women would pass. Last year two women qualified in the agility test; this year, 25 women qualified. Mr. Woska informed the Board that the examination was purchased from out of town and not scored by the City's staff. Mr. Woska informed the Board of the following:

Mr. Woska reported that Mr. Tom Tyler, Director of Examinations, IPMA, indicated to him that the Police Officer examination is purchased by many agencies and that very few applicants fail it with a raw score of 70% or below. Mr. Tyler indicated that IPMA recommended a cut-off point of 130 correct answers.

Mr. Woska indicated that the Personnel Director has authority to adjust a raw score as was done in this Police Officer examination pursuant to Civil Service Board Rule 7.4(c). Staff urged the Civil Service Board to uphold the Personnel Director's decision in this case.

Copies of the job announcement were distributed to the Board.

Mr. Woska explained the procedure in setting the pass point:

1. The number of candidates who qualify at a raw score of 70%:
 - a. At 70% (which is 103 items out of 148 questions), 529 out of 543 candidates were successful.
2. The mean score, the number of females who qualify, and the number of minorities who qualify are then considered.
3. The difficulty of the test, the quality of the competition, and the needs of the service are considered.
4. After careful consideration of these factors, the passing score of 130 correct answers was used for this Police Officer examination.

At 130 correct items, seven women passed. There were many minorities.

Detailed questions were asked by the Board concerning the raw score and the adjusted passing score. Mr. Danielson informed the Board that he had reviewed with Mr. Woska the Police Officer examination results in setting the pass point. Mr. Danielson explained that, in setting a pass point, the primary assessment is the difficulty level of the test. He said that the setting of a pass point as an administrative convenience to reduce the number of applicants who would be successful is not done.

The Civil Service Board then took a short recess. Upon returning, Mr. Street moved to lower the pass point to the raw score of 70%. Mr. Yee seconded the motion which carried by the following vote:

Ayes: Street, Wright, Yee.
Noes: Kuchman, Giles.
